The box is then highlighted and your edit icons appear on the right.

6. The Pencil is for editing the question.
The Double Box is for duplicating the question
The Trash Can is for deleting the question.

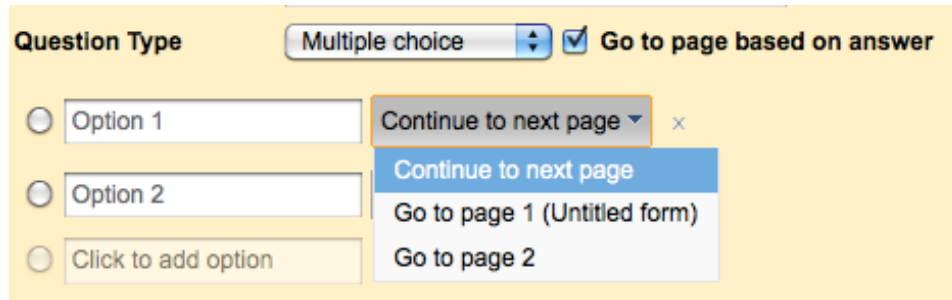

7. To add another question go up to Add Item and select the type of question or if you want a Section header or Page break.

Quiz or Review in Google Forms

8. The questions be on one page. If you want to redirect a question or have one question per page, you will need to add a page break. When you add a page break it goes to the bottom, but you can move it to where want your break. You can only redirect if you choose Multiple Choice. Put a check in the box in front of Go to page based on answer, then click in the drop down menu next to your answer and choose the page to go to with that answer.

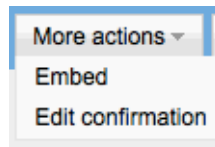

The screenshot shows the 'Question Type' section of a Google Form. The 'Question Type' is set to 'Multiple choice'. To the right, the checkbox 'Go to page based on answer' is checked. Below the question type, there are three radio button options: 'Option 1', 'Option 2', and 'Click to add option'. A dropdown menu is open next to 'Option 1', showing three choices: 'Continue to next page' (highlighted in blue), 'Go to page 1 (Untitled form)', and 'Go to page 2'.
